

Installation of the BOX Seat in Ulster's team colours of white, black and red has seen the stadium's capacity increase to 18,000

RAVENHILL ULSTER RUGBY

THEBOXSEAT[®]

Construction of two new-look stands and an entire rebuild of the main Grandstand at Belfast's Ravenhill Stadium means that the £14.7 million redevelopment of Ulster Rugby's home ground is now complete.

Installation of the BOX Seat in Ulster's team colours of white, black and red has seen the stadium's capacity increase to 18,000, duly raising the prestige and prominence of the venue.

Ravenhill has hosted a score of international matches, including pool games for Rugby World Cup tournaments.